

Nikos Antoniou

Investment Manager

17 years professional experience

6 years in Venture Capital

11 years in investment banking/corporate finance

Nikos Antoniou is an Investment Manager of the Piraeus VC-PE Group. He joined Piraeus Bank Group in April 2010 and as an Investment Manager has been responsible for originating, evaluating and executing several mainly early stage technology venture capital investments. He is a member of the PJ Tech Catalyst investment committee.

Previously, for 2 years Nikos was an Associate Director of Investment Banking at ALPHA BANK. From June 2000 - February 2008, he was an Account Officer of Investment Banking at PROTON BANK. During his investment banking years, Nikos advised several companies in initial public offerings, secondary equity offerings, M&A's and tender offers. Nikos started his career working for approx. 1 year at Prudential Securities in Atlanta, USA.

MBA from Auburn University in USA (1996-98)

Business Administration degree from Oglethorpe University in USA (1991-95)