

Marios Koliopoulos is a Managing Director with Alvarez & Marsal in the Financial Services Advisory practice. He is a member of the European Division Executive Committee and serves as Country Head for Greece.

In 2013 he served as the Deputy Chief Executive Officer of the Hellenic Financial Stability Fund (HFSF) where he contributed in the recapitalization of the Greek banks.

From 2009 to 2012 he was a senior financial advisor at Hellenic Petroleum S.A., where he led the structuring and execution of complex and inaugural debt capital raising transactions of c. $1,7 billion.

From 2004 to 2008 he served as the General Manager of Bank of America in Greece. He successfully managed the turn-around and strategic repositioning of the bank in Corporate & Investment Banking. During his career at Bank of America (1999 – 2008) he worked mainly on corporate finance advisory and capital raising transactions for banks, corporates and the sovereign.

Prior to Bank of America he worked for Kvaerner Corporate Development in London (UK), the investment arm of the Anglo-Norwegian Group, Kvaerner, where he was involved in asset/project finance transactions.

He has a Master of Business Administration (MBA) and a Master of Science (MSc) in Advanced Mechanical Engineering from Imperial College (London, UK) and a Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Mechanical Engineering from Lehigh University (US).